

SPANISH FIGHTER CIGAR

started efforts in our Southern States which have resulted in important developments.

The secret of Cuba's delicious Vuelta tobacco has been found out and successfully applied in three States touching southern Atlantic and Gulf waters.

At the time when tobacco agriculture was paralyzed in Cuba, Bondy & Lederer, of New York, were induced to experiment with transplanted tobacco sprouts (not seed growths, but best young Vuelta plants,) in portions of Florida and Louisiana and Texas, where the land elevation and distance from salt water was right. Sea mists turned into a heated moisture by a tropical sun, daily alternating this steamed hot-house-like moisture with the dead heat which dries it up before each sunset, are the necessary atmospheric conditions. A soil made loamy with a rich decayed vegetation developed and rotted for ages in alternating mist and heat is the necessary kind of soil. With soil exactly the same, land elevation similar, and action of the sun and the sea air just right all that was necessary was the introduction of the plant exactly as it was introduced and multiplied in Cuba's Vuelta Abajos district half a century ago. The result of growing perfect Vuelta tobacco on American soil could not fail and it has been even more than a complete success, for the new soil has yielded admittedly finer results than the old soil whose richness had been sapped so long. With these growths Bondy & Lederer escaped the enormous import duties and have been able to use this class of filler for the first time ever known in a five-cent cigar.

GUARANTEE BY DANIEL STEWART COMPANY

We guarantee that if you try TOM KEENE cigar you will find it has that same mellow "Java Coffee taste" peculiar to the finest grades of imported cigars of the milder type. You will recognize at once, and will appreciate this marked difference in a cigar at five cents, and we believe will be likely to circulate this information among your friends and help induce them to try the TOM KEENE cigar, and themselves recognize its new effect in taste and aroma.

We know fully about these plantations of Bondy & Lederer, in Florida, Louisiana and Texas. We find good reason to know that the very distinct and remarkable superiority of the TOM KEENE of to-day as a five-cent cigar is not imaginary or chance, but is due to two natural conditions—to a tobacco growth of the best kind in the world, properly cured, and the escape of heavy import duties.

DANIEL STEWART COMPANY, INDIANAPOLIS

DISTRIBUTERS TO DEALERS

FOR STATE CONVENTION

CANDIDATES HAVE BEGUN TO PREPARE THEIR HEADQUARTERS.

Senator Fairbanks Will Arrive To-Day and Senator Beveridge on Tuesday—The Officeholders.

A large piece of canvas fastened on a frame and attached to one of the large columns in the main lobby of the Denison Hotel gives information as to where the headquarters of the different candidates who are gathering for the Republican State convention may be found. All of the candidates will have rooms on what is known as the "parlor floor." According to the arrangements which the management of the hotel made with the candidates, they were to have their rooms from the evening of the 19th to the 25th. Most of the candidates have arrived in the city, and they had the privilege of opening their headquarters last night if they desired. Following is a list of the candidates for the different offices:

Secretary of State—Daniel E. Storms, of Lafayette.
Auditor of State—James R. Henry, of Gosport; Frank Doran, of Laporte; David E. Sherick, of Muncie.
Attorney General—Merrill Moores, of Indianapolis; James Bingham, of Muncie; Charles W. Miller, of Goshen; Griffith D. Dean, of Marion; Martin W. Fields, of Princeton; and Ward H. Watson, of Charlestown.
Clerk of Supreme Court—R. A. Brown, E. E. Neal, of Noblesville; W. R. McClellan, of Danville; Edward Fitzpatrick, of Portland; and J. C. Hatfield, of Bluffton.
Superintendent of Public Instruction—F. A. Cotton, of Indianapolis; C. A. Van Matre, of Muncie; T. E. Kenzie, of South Bend; R. C. Hillis, of Logansport; George Worley, of Warsaw; and E. S. Monroe, of Mount Vernon.
Judges Appellate Court—U. Z. Wiley, W. D. Robinson, Frank S. Roby, D. W. Comstock, W. J. Henley, and J. B. Black.
Judge Supreme Court—John H. Gillette, of Hammond.
State Statistician—B. F. Johnson.
State Treasurer—Nat. U. Hill, of Bloomington; Jacob List, of Crawford; George Dyer, of Hammond; and Thomas R. Millikan, of New Castle.

For the offices of state statistician, geologist and for the judgeships on the Supreme and Appellate benches there is no opposition to the candidacy of the present incumbents.
The carpets in the corridors of the parlor floor of the Denison have been covered with thick canvas in anticipation of a big crowd this week. One of the first to be seen on his sign last night was Frank Martin, candidate for auditor of state. Mr. Martin will occupy one of the main parlors. Above the entrance he has had the American flag draped in an artistic way. Mr. Martin's headquarters were closed last night, but will be open in due time to the public. At the south end of one of the main corridors on the parlor floor a large banner was hung up yesterday evening, announcing that James R. Henry is a candidate for auditor of state. These were the only two headquarters that were advertised last night. By Monday, however, most of the candidates will be in readiness to receive their friends.

HINES GIVES THREE REASONS

Why He Thinks E. E. Neal is a Strong Candidate.
Fred E. Hines, of Noblesville, who was reading clerk in the House during the last session of the State Legislature, is in town in the interest of E. E. Neal, candidate for clerk of the Supreme Court. Mr. Hines will have charge of Mr. Neal's headquarters at the Denison. They will be Rooms 47 and 48, on the parlor floor.
"It is being conceded," said Mr. Hines yesterday, "that Mr. Neal has the inside on the clerk's race, regardless of whoever else is nominated for any other office. Mr. Neal is not making a personal fight on any other candidate, but is simply asking for the office on his own merits. His friends feel that his record in the Legislature for two terms is vastly in his favor. There are three reasons why we feel that he is a strong candidate. One is that the labor people are for him because of his stand for labor in the Legislature. Another is that the school teachers are for him because of his minimum wage bill. A third reason is, perhaps, because he has a larger acquaintance throughout the State than any other candidate."

MOVEMENTS OF THE SENATORS.

Mr. Fairbanks Will Be Here To-Day and Mr. Beveridge on Tuesday.
Thomas R. Shipp, assistant private secretary to Senator Beveridge, arrived in Indianapolis from Washington yesterday to remain until after the convention. He says that Col. W. B. Roberts, Mr. Beveridge's private secretary, will be here. It is expected that the senator will arrive on Tuesday. He has been very busy lately with the Philippines committee. This committee will hold a meeting on Monday, and it is understood that the body will adjourn in the afternoon as a compliment to Senator Beveridge, and will not meet again until his return from Indianapolis.

Wells County's Claim.
N. K. Todd, of Bluffton, J. C. Hatfield's right-hand man, has arrived at the Denison. Mr. Hatfield, who hopes to secure the nomination for clerk of the Supreme Court, is also here. They will open their headquarters on Monday and Mr. Todd will be in charge. "Wells county has never had either a State, congressional or senatorial candidate nominated," said Mr. Todd last night, "and we have made as good gains as any county in the State. If Mr. Hatfield is nominated we feel sure we can carry Wells county for the State and thus help elect a United States senator."

Merrill Moores's Hustling.
Merrill Moores, candidate for attorney general, closed his "traveling campaign" last night and returned to the city. He has visited, perhaps, eighty counties in the interests of his candidacy, and has talked with, perhaps, a thousand delegates. He said last night he felt hopeful of receiving the nomination.

Doran Used to Fighting.
Frank Doran, of Laporte, candidate for auditor of state, does not believe a nomination will be made for this office short of four or five ballots. "I expect to be a winner in this race," said Mr. Doran. "I come from a Democratic county, and am used to fighting."

Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms.
S. E. Kercheval, sergeant-at-arms for the state convention, has appointed H. C. Adams as first assistant sergeant-at-arms. Col. Russell B. Harrison will also assist Mr. Kercheval in his work.

Mr. Hillis's Canvass.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 19.—Robert C. Hillis, the Cass county candidate for the Republican nomination for superintendent of public instruction, will leave here on Sunday for Indianapolis for the purpose of opening his headquarters at the Denison Hotel, where he will complete his final preparations for his race. He will be accompanied by a number of well-known Republicans who will assist in managing his campaign. He has made a thorough canvass of Indiana, and the indications are that he has made a favorable impression and will make a strong factor in the convention.

Dyer and Gillett Men.
Special to the Indianapolis Journal.
HAMMOND, Ind., April 19.—The Lake county Republicans will send twenty-seven delegates to the State convention who are instructed to vote for John W. Dyer for State treasurer and for John H. Gillett for Supreme Judge, first, last and all the time. They were so instructed this afternoon at the convention held here today.

LIBRARIANS' SCHOOL.

Members May Visit James Whitcomb Riley's Old Home.

Miss Chapin, one of the assistant state librarians, read a paper before the State School for Librarians yesterday morning. The school yesterday was in session but half a day. Many of the students, however, returned in the afternoon to continue the work. To-morrow morning Attorney General Taylor will read a paper on the care of law books. Miss Hoagland, state library organizer, is at work on details of library buildings for several cities in the State that have been endowed by Andrew Carnegie. Miss Hoagland will first supply the city of New Albany with information as to the detail working of a library. It is now being contemplated by the teachers and students of the State School for Librarians to take a trip to Greendale before the school closes and visit the old home of James Whitcomb Riley.

In Memory of Mrs. Mary P. Thompson.

The committee appointed by the State Regent of the Daughters of the Revolution to take action on the death of Mrs. Mary P. Thompson, an officer in that society, reported the following resolutions:
"Whereas, Inasmuch as our society has been bereft of a dearly beloved and esteemed member, Mary P. Thompson, who has been called by an all-wise and infinite Providence from this life of earth to the life of eternal happiness and rest; and
"Resolved, That we, the Daughters of the Revolution in Indiana, pay a loving tribute to her memory in the beautiful flowers she loved so well; that we cherish forever the remembrance of her many virtues, her noble charities, her gracious hospitality, her wise counsel, her intense patriotism and her zeal for the welfare of our society;
"That in her death our society has lost a valued and most efficient officer and member, a life of rich promise and an example worthy of the highest emulation;
"Resolved, That we tender to the sorrowing husband and friends our warmest sympathy and ask them to be comforted with the faith that the Great Shepherd has led her into the green pastures, beside the still waters, for eternal publication; and
"Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased, to the Indianapolis papers for publication, and also to the Indianapolis Chapter, Daughters of the Revolution, to be spread upon the records of the chapter.
The resolutions were signed by Laura Loft Cross, Emma L. Freeman, Theresa Voss Smith and Mary E. Patterson.

Death of Dr. F. O. Clemmer.
Dr. F. O. Clemmer, for fifteen years one of the most prominent physicians of Indianapolis, died at his late home in Madisonville, O., Monday, April 14, in his forty-ninth year, after a long and painful illness. A post-mortem examination proved that the deceased, whose case puzzled the ablest physicians, died of cancer of the stomach. Dr. Clemmer leaves a widow, formerly Mrs. Eugene Thompson, of this city, and three brothers, Dr. J. C. Clemmer, of Columbus, O.; Mr. W. E. Clemmer, of Boston, Mass.; and L. N. Zeigler, of Bellefontaine, O.

Funeral services were held at the residence on Tuesday, interment in the family burying ground at Dayton, O., on Wednesday, April 15.

Stole a New Bicycle.
Last night about 9 o'clock, while Detectives Dugan and Manning were walking down Virginia avenue, near Maryland street, they noticed Henry Ragsdale leading a bicycle, which the detectives knew did not belong to him, as he had been too often in the custody of the police. The detectives began questioning Ragsdale about the wheel, and he said he was holding it for another fellow. His story was incoherent and the detectives decided to take him to the police station and find if any lost wheel answering its description had been recorded. The wheel was a new one, Mueller & Watson were called up, and it was found that the wheel had been stolen from them. They did not know before that it had been taken. Ragsdale was charged with grand larceny.

NEWS FROM THE COURTS

JUDGE CARTER DECIDES AGAINST THE TRANSFER COMPANIES.

They Must Pay Licenses on Their Vehicles—Grand Jury Returns Number of Indictments.

Judge Carter, of the Superior Court, yesterday held that the ordinance of 1889 and 1892, the former imposing a license on public-used vehicles and the latter on the vehicles themselves, were legal and that the one did not invalidate the other. He held that both ordinances are the exercise of the police power, rather than of a taxing power. The first ordinance, he said, provides for a license on the business and the second for the use of the vehicles on the streets. The decision was in the suit of the city against the Hogan Transfer Company, which refused to pay both licenses. Nearly all the transfer men in the city were awaiting the decision before paying the licenses. P. Thompson, an officer in that society, Breunig and Deputy Prosecutor Whallon will see that the money is collected this year, as well as last year.

Grand Jury's Report.
The grand jury yesterday made its final report for the April session, returning fifteen indictments, seven of which were made public. During the entire session thirty-one indictments were returned, 296 witnesses were examined, six prisoners were discharged and three cases were continued for further evidence.

Charles Hubbard was indicted on the charge of murder. He shot Gus Munroe at New York street and Indiana avenue on April 10, the latter died from the effects of the wound at the City Hospital last Friday. Other indictments were: John Kinley and Jesse Owens, assault and battery and robbery, charged with assaulting Edward Pancoak, 32 North Alabama street, and robbing him of $50; August Rutt, larceny, charged in two indictments with stealing two bicycles from the bicycle store of Jacob Lester, 105 North Liberty street; James Dacy, burglary, charged with entering the store of Sommer Brothers, 19 East McCarty street, and stealing a pen valued at $3.50; Henry Lyman, Harry Burris, James Lague, Roy Burris and Eddie Hood, charged with entering the store of Andrew Harmon, Blake and New York streets, and carrying off goods.

The Peculiar Mrs. Jolley.
Robert P. Jolley yesterday was granted a divorce from his wife, Elizabeth F. Jolley. A few weeks ago Mrs. Jolley brought suit against her husband for support. In the hearing it developed that Mrs. Jolley had left her husband, gone to Cincinnati, and there married a convict named Robinson. It seems that Mrs. Jolley and Robinson had been identified with the Wheeler Mission, and Manager Wheeler, learning of the circumstances, had caused Robinson to be taken back to the penitentiary. Mrs. Jolley then returned to her home here and brought suit for support. Upon learning these details of the case Judge McMaster said the prosecutor should see to it that indictments were brought against Mrs. Jolley for bigamy and perjury. The grand jury attempted to find Mrs. Jolley and get her deposition, but she had left the city and cannot now be found.

A Grievance Against Hotheds.
Mary Meek yesterday filed suit against William C. John and Edward J. Bertermann and Thomas L. Sullivan, trustees, for $5,000 damages and an injunction. She avers that Sullivan holds three acres of land on Tulip avenue, opposite her property, and that he leased the land to the Bertermanns.

She avers that the hotheds maintained there by the Bertermanns give off such an offensive odor that her house is permeated with the fumes, and that the defendants have constructed a drain tile system which drains the water from the beds into her yard and a well, making the water unfit for use. She avers that the presence of the hotheds has greatly decreased the value and rental of her property, for which she seeks damages, and an injunction is asked to prohibit the defendants from using the hotheds or draining them into her property.

Says He Was in Jail Too Long.

David F. Bradford and Wesley Hays each brought suit yesterday against Sheriff Sauley and William L. Taylor and Leopold G. Rothschild, his bondsmen, for damages. Bradford says he was fined $50 and $10 costs, and being unable to pay, was confined in the workhouse for sixty days. He avers that the sheriff transferred him to the jail and kept him twelve days over time. Hays was fined $25 and $10 costs and sentenced to thirty days, and stayed in the workhouse thirty-five days. He alleges that he was unlawfully detained in the county jail seven days.

Married on Heels of Divorce.

Mary E. Price yesterday was granted a divorce from her husband, Newman M. Price, by Judge McMaster, and in a short time she was the wife of James J. Hartley. Soon after the decree the license was procured, and the couple went across to the office of Justice Sheppard and were married. The bride is twenty-four years old. It is said that she married Price when she was but a girl. She brought suit for divorce on the grounds of abandonment, failure to provide and cruel treatment.

Notes of the Courts.

Frank Cook, of Chicago, yesterday filed in the Federal Court six suits against the Sterling Electric Company, of Lafayette. He asks an injunction against the defendant further infringing on his patent on a "terminal head and junction box." Edward W. Ruth, of New Albany, yesterday filed in the Federal Court a petition in bankruptcy. His assets are $2,221, his liabilities $2,221. The attorneys for Vincent Ginn, of Middletown, yesterday filed an appeal in the Supreme Court from the sentence of life imprisonment imposed by the lower court. It is said Ginn killed Frank Giltner with a pistol of course by accident, but over the head. Ginn's defense is insanity.

THE COURT RECORD.

Room 2—Vinson Carter, Judge.
Samuel M. Downing vs. Anna L. Kissell et al.; damages and injunction. Dismissed by agreement; judgments against defendant for costs for defendants; cause abated.
On motion of Frank Groninger, James E. Keppeler was admitted to the bar.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Henry Clay Allen, Judge.
Levi Woods et al. vs. Fred Lichtenauer et al.; partition. Finding against plaintiff on complaint and finding for cross-complainant and decree quieting title in defendant. Lichtenauer; judgment against plaintiff for costs.
Ida E. Fischer, administratrix, vs. Edgar E. Vanclaeve; damages. Defendant deposes that he was injured by plaintiff; judgment against defendant for $3,000 and costs, without relief and without costs.
Orpha Morrison vs. Otis M. Morrison; divorce. Submitted to court; finding for plaintiff. Decree of divorce; cause abated.
John S. Booth vs. Charles W. Richards, receiver, et al.; to foreclose lien. Plaintiff declines to plead over; judgment on demurrer of defendant; cause abated.
Judgment against plaintiff for costs; pleas in abatement of other defendants submitted to court; finding for defendants; cause abated; judgment against plaintiff for costs.
State ex rel. Lulu Gladys Hatt vs. Joseph Bidcoe; bastardy. Finding for plaintiff; judgment against defendant for $25 to be paid in installments, $5 in thirty days and $1 per month thereafter until paid; judgment against defendant for costs for defendant; cause abated.
State ex rel. Ella Walz vs. Wolf Sussman et al.; on bond. Relatrix files written dismissal of cause and by agreement judgment against defendant Sussman, for costs.
State ex rel. Ella Walz vs. Wolf Sussman

Others Advertise to Extract Teeth without Pain

WE DO!

TAFT DENTIST
25 West Wash. St.

et al.; on bond. Relatrix files written dismissal of cause and by agreement judgment against defendant Sussman, for costs.
State ex rel. Carrie Burke vs. William Burke; fraudulent marriage. Submitted to jury; relatrix's evidence heard; jury instructed to return verdict for defendant; jury retire and return verdict for defendant; judgment on verdict against plaintiff for costs.

CRIMINAL COURT.

Fremont Alford, Judge.
Retta Frabher; profanity. Appeal from Justice Nickerson; trial by court; continued.
NEW SUITS FILED.
Henry L. Dollman vs. Melville F. Shaw et al.; mechanic's lien. Superior Court, Room 2.
The Railroadmen's Building and Savings Association vs. Stephen Shockney et al.; mortgage. Superior Court, Room 1.
Nettie May Carver vs. Isaac N. Carver; divorce. Circuit Court.
Alice S. Peck, executrix of the estate of Benjamin B. Peck, vs. John S. Ralston et al.; note. Superior Court, Room 2.
State of Indiana on relation of David F. Randolph vs. Eugene Sauley et al.; damages; demand, $200. Superior Court, Room 2.
Jeremiah Grady vs. Albert McKee; damages; demand, $500. Superior Court, Room 1.

APPELLATE COURT.

—Minutes—
4217. Charles A. Skelton et al. vs. John G. Sharp et al. Pulaski C. C. Appellants' brief.
4258. William H. Coffinberry vs. Alpheus W. Madden, administrator. De Kalb C. C. Appellants' brief.
2867. Ira Pearson vs. Amos A. Kepru. Miami C. C. Appellants' petition and brief.
3426. William J. Guy et al. vs. William Liberezt et al. De Kalb C. C. Memorandum on appellants' motion to dismiss.
3596. Jefferson R. Heidrip vs. town of Windfall City et al. Tipton C. C. Appellants' additional authorities.

"77"

Dr. Humphreys' "77" breaks up Grip and Colds that hang on and do not yield to treatment—handy to carry—25 cts.

COLDS

H. T. CONDE
Implement Company
231-237 W. WASHINGTON

V. H. LOCKWOOD
PATENT AND TRADE-MARK LAWYER
425-429 Kemok Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

VEHICLES THAT ALWAYS COMBINE THE RELIABLE QUALITY with THE LATEST DESIGNS

Columbus and Kauffman

WE CARRY A FULL LINE OF THESE VEHICLES, AND IT INCLUDES

DRIVING WAGONS
BUGGIES
PHAETONS
TRAPS
SURREYS
CARRIAGES
DEPOT WAGONS

AND, IN FACT, EVERY KIND AND STYLE OF WAGON

H. T. CONDE
Implement Company

231-237 W. WASHINGTON